Missive from the Baronage to the Populace

---

Greetings Unto the Fine Citizens of Lochmere,

After a much needed rest after war, we traveled to visit our cousins in Bright Hills for their Trial by Fire/Lochmere Arrow event. We were invited to be taste judges for cooking competitions, which were all very well done and absolutely delicious. During evening court we were happy to see the Novice category was won by a new Lochmeri. His Excellency was tempted to make off with the Lochmere Arrow during court, but we decided there were too many witnesses. While Lochmere may not have won the Lochmere arrow back, we were glad that there were 3 Lochmere teams competing.

The following weekend was Lochmere's shared event with Storvik: Battle on the Bay. The weather was particularly challenging but it was a fine turnout. There was plenty of fighting, with the heavy fighters on the field and the rapier fighters up in the barn as well as plenty of shooting and throwing on the archery and thrown weapons range respectively. As always the A&S displays were wonderful with an open display, at works in progress A&S challenge, and a mead challenge which was undoubtedly appreciated by those judging. We also had a silent auction which raised over $900 for the baronial cornets. Many thanks to all the artists that donated items and Lady Lisette for coordinating the auction. We were fortunate that the rain stopped so we could hold a joint court on the field with Baroness Griele from Storvik. Then we sat down and ate an absolutely wonderful feast cooked by Lady Christiana. It was truly wonderful to see so many Lochmeri coming together to work on this event and make it a success. Congratulations to the autocrats, Lady Genevieve and Lord Cormacc.

Next we traveled south to the Barony of Sacred Stone to University. The University was outdoors and very well attended. It was his Excellency's first time teaching. It was a busy day but we both thoroughly enjoyed the event. At the end of the day, Their Majesties held Curia. The changes from Curia are posted in the Atlantia Acorn newsletter (you must log into sca.org to access it.)

This upcoming weekend is Coronation and we hope to have many of you join us as we welcome our new Monarchs, Christoph and Adelheit. Field space has been reserved, and we ask everyone bring a dish or beverage to share.

Looking forward to seeing everyone at Coronation.

In service to the dream,

Baron Gabrell

Baroness Avice
