Bright Hills Baronial Birthday

February 8, 2014

Join us as we wish Master Chirhart and Mistress Jeanne a Happy Retirement and welcome Their Heirs as the 7th Coronets of Bright Hills. In the dim and misty past (20 years ago), Bright Hills became the 13th barony of the Kingdom of Atlantia. Perhaps knowing that they were beginning a long tradition, the weather gods marked the occasion with a snowstorm that closed the site. By royal decree the event took place in spite of the weather, in the home of the gracious Master Chirhart and Mistress Jeanne. Preserving the Past: In celebration of our two decades of baronial status (and our prior history as the Shire of Bright Hills), we wish to gather any records not yet preserved on the baronial archives. Since those ancient times saw the infancy of not only the barony but also the mystical art of digital photography, we ask everyone to look to your albums and bring old photographs of baronial history to the hall, where there will be three scanners set up for copying them. We will have a book of the sagas and stories -- please stop by and add stories you would like to have remembered. You can send them ahead of time by the hand of your virtual scribe [email], bring printed copies to the event, or sit down and record any you recall that day. The event officially runs from 10am to 10pm, volunteers for set up and clean up outside of those hours are welcome! Schedule and activity updates will appear on the event webpage.

Poetry Corner

By Guido Cavalcanti

Bilta di donna, e di saccente corre e cavalieri armati che sien genti, cantar d'augelli e ragionar d'amore, adorni legni 'n mar forte correnti, aria serena quand' appar l'albore, e bianca neve scender senza venti, rivera d'acqua e prato d'ogni fiore, oro e argento, azzurro 'n ornamenti, cio passa la beltate e la valenza de la mia donna e'l su' gentil coraggio,

Beauty of women and wise hearts and noble armed cavaliers bird's song and love's reason bedecked ships in strong seas serene air at dawn and white snow falling windlessly watery brooks and fields of all flowers gold, silver, lapis lazuli in adornmentthese are transcended by the beauty and grace of my Lady for her gentle heart which renders unworthy he who looks at her si che rassembra vile a chi cio guarda.

E tant' a piu d'ogn'altra canoscenza, quanto lo cielo de la terra e maggio: A simil di natura ben non tarda.

so she is wiser than anyone as the heavens are greater than the earth so to such a similar nature, goodness delays not

Guido Cavalcanti “(between 1250 and 1259 – August 1300[1]) was an Italian poet, as well as an intellectual influence on his best friend, Dante Alighieri.<sup>[2]</sup> Cavalcanti was the son of Cavalcante de' Cavalcanti, a Guelph whom Dante condemns to torment in the sixth circle of his Inferno, where the heretics are punished... During his lifetime, Florence was politically torn by the struggle between the Guelphs and Ghibellines, factions supporting, respectively, the Pope and the Holy Roman Emperor in central and northern Italy during the 12th and 13th centuries... Cavalcanti was a part of the Tuscan poetic movement known as the Dolce stil novo (Sweet New Style), whose members are referred to by their Tuscan name, the stilnovisti. The formative influences on the stilnovisti came from two main sources.”
