SAVOURY TOSTED OR MELTED CHEESE

Cut pieces of quick, fat, rich, well tasted cheese, (as the best of Brye, Cheshire, &c. or sharp thick Cream-Cheese) into a dish of thick beaten melted Butter, that hath served for Sparages or the like, or pease, or other boiled Sallet, or ragout of meat, or gravy of Mutton: and, if you will, Chop some of the Asparages among it, or slices of Gambon of Bacon, or fresh-collops, or Onions, or Sibboulets, or Anchovis, and set all this to melt upon a Chafing-dish of Coals, and stir all well together, to Incorporate them; and when all is of an equal consistence, strew some gross White-Pepper on it, and eat it with tosts or crusts of White-bread. You may scorch it at the top with a hot Fire-Shovel.

Always a Lochmere favorite, here is the modern ingredients used:

Lochmere Buisness Meeting Notes

March 3, 2014 Cancelled

Next Meeting: April 7, 2014

Note: The March Lochmere Buisness Meeting was cancelled due to a large snowstorm in the area. The following are reports that were collected via the Lochmere Yahoo Group.

Chatelain (Lady Avice Claremond)

1) Planning meeting held with Deputies:

a) Plan for NoTT: If ok w/ the autocrat, we'd like to set up a Newcomers table by Troll. We will have information available at the table and will man the table from 9 am to 12pm. I will be bringing the gold key. If anyone knows of any newcomers/friends/etc that will require garb, pls get sizes to me by Thursday evening before the event.

b) Gold Key improvements underway - we still especially need laces, belts, wooden or metal feast gear, and tunics.

c) We will be looking into posting information about the SCA at local colleges, bases, and YMCAs.

2) Two newcomer contacts - information sent.

3) Opened a dialog with local chatelains about coordinating newcomers activities. More to come in the future.

Also, as mentioned on FB, attached is the flyer for garb wars. (Available in the Lochmere Yahoo Group)

Night on the Town (Lord Segehart Leutmericz, Autocrat)

Three weeks to go!

Big thanks for help with advertising. We had flyers at Twelfth Night, Midwinter's Fest, and Ymir.

Feast: I have Cadfael's feast menu. I had to answer a question for him before posting but that is answered so it will go out to lists tonight.

Lunch: We will likely be adding bowls of soup to the usual brats this year as it may be a bit colder this year. It will be incorporated into current budget. Pray thaw comes fast!

Reservation Table: With Beverly not available Vlad is willing to step up but wants help. Duchess Simone will be helping him as much as possible but we could use another volunteer or two to relieve them throughout the day.

Newcomers: Avice, please feel free to set up your newcomer needs alongside the reservation table.

Martial: We have the marshals we need lined up, I will send out schedule once I hear back from a final marshal.

Lochmart: I will have a 12 x 18 on site friday for Arianna to use.

Liquor: Greg mailed our license back to us last week. Have not seen it in the mail yet.

Contract: Continue to have weather intervening us meeting with Greg. Currently, I will be onsite Wednesday to have him sign contract. Frost permitting we will have the Showers for use Saturday morning through end of event.

Liquor: Greg mailed our license back to us last week. Have not seen it in the mail yet.

Volunteers Needed: We have set-up, clean-up, feast clean up covered. Where we need help; Parking for a few hours on Saturday morning, help serving high table for feast, help backing up reservation table. I can drive and gather all the tents and baronial property for the event but I would love having an extra person with a truck or van to assist delivering baronial stuff to the site on Friday and bringing it back on Sunday.

Lastly there is a slim chance we may get the Her Majesty to come to the event but she would want some volunteers to help watch her children for a few hours so she can attend the the event properly and in peace. This is still only a slight chance but I wanted to gauge if we had the volunteers willing to step forward.

Arts & Sciences (Lady Erennach the Lost)

As far as A&S report goes: the last combo night was pretty quiet. Sir Aelfred taught an impromptu class on graphing and drawing knotwork. Avice, Gabe, Duchess Simone, myself and Segehardt talked about getting projects started in the near future for making scroll covers.

The next combo night is March 11th and Avice will be teaching. There is also the chance that we will have someone join us to talk about archery.

Classes are planned for NOTT.

If you are interested in teaching (and haven't come forward before now) whether on artisan's row OR in traditional class format, please contact me asap.

That is all I have to report at the moment.

Stay safe and warm,

Regards

Erennach

DAY IN THE UTTERMOST WEST

DUN CARRAIG

April 12

<http://www.duncarraig.net/uttermostwest>

The year is 473 of the Hijra (1095 to the Franks) and the place al-Andalus, at the westernmost end of the civilized world. There in the strange and wondrous city of Valencia the Faithful serve side-by-side with the infidel in war and peace, under the rule of that mighty captain Rodrigo Díaz de Vivar. Though he is but a Frank he treats the Faithful as he treats his fellow Christians: justly, with respect and honor. For this they call him al-sayyid, "The lord," while to the Franks he is campeador, "champion." To his court El Cid invites the Moslem and Christian nobles of the land for a grand tournament and feast. And drawn by his fame come also many nobles of lands far distant from al-Andalus, even beyond the Western Sea. It is said he wishes to forge a grand alliance against the Almoravid Berbers, who have invaded from the south across the strait of Gibel Tariq. But El Cid's task will not be easy: he has been exiled more than once from King Alfonso's court and still has enemies there. Also there is treachery and faction even among the Faithful (regard it not, O Heaven!): spies from Marrakesh, ingrates from Zaragoza. And of course the infantes de Carrión will make mischief wherever, whenever and however they may. To this marvelous, perilous garden of glory and intrigue which is Valencia, then—come, O traveler, come!

Martial Activities: Tourneys will be held for both armored and rapier.

Arts & Sciences Activities: In the fair lands of Valencia, Muslim, Jewish and Christian cultures combine; each influencing the other's art, food and music. Such "culture clashes" are not unknown in the Middle Ages: the Normans left their mark on both Italy and Ireland, a few centuries later the Teutonic Knights would launch an invasion of Prussia. There is a 10th century casting mold from Denmark that features both Thor's hammer and cross designs. Not all of these interactions were peaceful, but each left both cultures forever changed. Entrants are encouraged to enter an item demonstrating the influence of two or more cultures within the item.

There is no restriction on the type of item to be entered, but documentation is required in order to understand the unique contribution of each culture. Given the short time to the event, works in progress are happily encouraged.

As we in Dun Carraig are also fond of the colors gules and argent (red and white/silver), cross botonies and of our beloved Seadog, we are hosting a second competition for items that feature these elements. Documentation is not required for this competition, as we seek only to encourage gentles to express their love of our Barony and its people.

For additional questions or concerns, please contact Mistress Molly (Leesa Orton) via e-mail: Idmolly69 AT gmail DOT com.

BRIGHT HILLS INVESTITURE

April 19

<http://www.brighthills.net/events/Investiture2014.html>

Bright Hills celebrates the service of our retiring Baron and Baroness, Chirhart Blackstar and Jeanne Tenneur de Bec and welcomes our new Coronets. Join us for a day of festivities as we welcome this new chapter in Bright Hills history.

Martial Activities: Tourney's for Heavy, Rapier and Archery will test the mettle of our fierce warriors. The dreaded Zombie Snow Bunnies have invaded Bright Hills and must be destroyed, lest they destroy our food sources. Sadly, they have disguised themselves as Easter Bunnies.

Arts & Sciences Activities: We welcome new coronets with new ideas and to honor this we will have both an open display as well as a competition for your "New Beginnings" of an art or craft you have tried within the last year. Documentation encouraged.

Site: Steppingstone Museum, 461 Quaker Bottom Rd, Havre de Grace, MD 21078. Located within the Susquehanna State Park.
