To the Populace

Greetings unto the fair citizens of the Barony of Lochmere,

It's been a busy month and finally Spring has arrived.

March may have come in like a lion, but this year it also left like a lion. While several Lochmeri braved the elements at Defending the Gate, we traveled to the Barony of Tir-Y-Don to witness the investiture of their new Baron and Baroness and enjoy the festivities of their 40th anniversary. Due to the stiff wind and still chilly weather, we confess to only peeking at the fighting and opted to stay warm.

The following weekend, we were back at Lochmere and could not be more proud of Night on the Piazza. As always, the Barony came together, fought the wind and won. Many people told us what a wonderful time they were having. Thank you to everyone who helped with set-up, break down, and throughout the day to keep everything running. The fighting looked tremendous and we were happy to see the combat archers get into the mix. Congratulations to our first time autocrat, Lady Angelina, our new Rapier Champion Lady Ayla, and to Baron Vlad, the premiere member of the Barony's new order, the Silver Tortoise. The day was capped with a delicious feast and much post feast merriment.

Lastly our travels took us back south to the Barony of Windmaster's Hill to witness the coronation of Logan and Esa, the King and Queen of Atlantia as well as an historic moment when the first three members of the Masters of Defense were announced. The day could not have been more beautiful and we were finally able to bid good bye to winter.

Thank you to Lady Genevieve, Master Philip, Lady Shannon, Countess Aryanna, and Mistress Genevieve for heralding, coordinating hospitality, and retaining. There are many events and activities planned for the near future and we look forward to seeing you all there.

Baron Gabrell

Baroness Avice

Night on the Piazza Court Report

Unto Your Majesties Michael and Seonaid, King and Queen of Atlantia, Your Highnesses Logan and Esa, Prince and Princess of Atlantia, Your Excellencies Gabrell and Avice, Baron and Baroness of Lochmere, the Atlantian College of Heralds and Scribes, and the good populace of the Kingdom of Atlantia and the Barony of Lochmere does Sigrid, Partan Pursuivant of the Barony of Lochmere send greetings and well wishes.

It is my honor to bring you this report of the court held by Their Excellencies, Gabrell and Avice, Baron and Baroness Lochmere on the 4th day of April Anno Societas XLIX, being 2015 in the common reckoning, at Night on the Piazza.

After granting the populace their ease, the first order of business was to call Lady Angelina Falconis into court. After thanking her for her service as Their Baronial Rapier Champion, Their Excellencies did request of her the regalia that another may serve. Before releasing her from Their presence, they did induct her into the Order of the Crab's Claw for her martial prowess.

Their Excellencies then did call for Lady Ayla von Dahauua and ask if she had considered Their earlier request. She stated her agreement and His Excellency did place on her the regalia of the Baronial Rapier Champion. With joyous vivats from the populace, she did take her place in Their court.

After swearing those present to secrecy, Their Excellencies had a scroll read into the records that it may be written to the Order of Precedence on this day. They will present said scroll to the honored recipient at a later date.

Lord Ivan Borisovich of Volcheva Lesa was then called to court and Baron Kryss Kostarev called in to represent him. Though we do not often see Lord Ivan at events anymore, his consistent years of service to the archery community, even to this day, did cause Their Excellencies to award him Their Award of Excellence. Baron Gabrell & Baron Kryss will deliver the token to him at the next Baronial Archery practice.

Baron Kryss took this opportunity to beg a boon of Their Excellencies. It being granted he did call for His Excellency Fergus that he may present him with the newly completed leather travel coronets for the Barony of Highland Foorde. Baron Fergus was most pleased with the new coronets.

His Excellency wished to present some Archery tokens. While one good gentle had found urgent business elsewhere, His Excellency did call forth Baroness Adina von der Heide to join Him in court. Her Excellency Adina did gleefully take a knee, forgoing His Excellencies entreaties. Baron Gabrell did then present Baroness Adina with her Archer token that she had earned in her days in Their lands.

Their Excellencies did then call all the children present to join Them in court. Such a shy child did not wish to come forward, that Her Excellency did call all that retain the heart of a child to attend her that the young lady not be alone. After much cajoling by the "children," tokens were chosen and and a "dignified" retreat occurred.

Their Excellencies did then call forth all those for whom this was their first event. After inquiries regarding how they enjoyed their day, His Excellency presented each with a small token to remember the day. It was noted that the herald standing as second this day was of those so assembled.

The autocrat, Lady Angelina Falconis, was called forth. She gave thanks to all who had assisted her this day; especially those perfect strangers that contacted her asking how they could help. She did then call into court her representatives to announce the winners of the scenarios and Arts and Sciences competitions. Lady Caitlin did relate the martial activities as follows. Knife, axe, and spear had many happy participants. The Three by Three Bear Pit was won by Baron Drogo, Seamus, and Geoffrey. It was noted that Baron Drogo played his Free Scholar prize this day. The Iron Spike Tournament was won by Lady Rochelle. The Period Celebration Tournament was won by Gawin and there was note that people were wearing their "wounds" the remainder of the day. The combat archery in the Rapier scenarios brought much regard from the participants. Lady Genevieve then announced the winners of the day's Arts and Sciences competitions.

First announced was the Scroll Competition sponsored by Her Excellency Avice. The Youth Scroll competition was won by Honor of Lochmere; here at her first event. Bantiarna Shannon inghean Bhriain uí Dhuilleáin won the Novice Scroll Competition with a scroll blank which she gave to Their Excellencies for a future recipient of the Golden Arrow. It was shown to much regard from the assembled. The Scroll Competition winners were presented with art sets with which to encourage their future efforts. The Open category competition overall winner was Baron Kryss Kostarev with his beautiful leather travel coronets for Their Excellencies Highland Foorde. Honorable mention went to Connie of Lochmere for her leather bracer that she brought to this her first event. The open category winners were presented with lengths of rust colored linen for their efforts. Lady Angelina concluded by noting the joy of the children at the egg hunt today and requesting assistance for the stalwart cooks that had been working all day preparing our feast.

Their Excellencies, wishing to recognize the long and storied support of their members, did call forth a representative of the initial inductees into Their Orders for service, the arts and sciences, martial skills, and archery that they might recognize them. Representing the companions of the Order of the Blasted Oak, Mistress Keilyn FitzWarin; the companions of the Order of the Eagle's Feather, Lord Nathon of Arindale; the companions of the Order of the Crab's Claw, Duke Galmr Ingolfsson and Dame Dealla Cohen; and the companions of the Order of the Golden Arrow, Baron Aelfgar Greyseas, did come forth.

In looking around at these orders and their wonderful representatives, Their Excellencies still felt there was more recognition Lochmere needed to give to longtime members that also represent the best of Lochmere. They did then speak of their desire to create a new Order, effective this day, that They might recognize the very first member. At that, they did command the presence of Baron Vladimir Vladimirovich Vladimirov and induct him into the Order of the Silver Tortoise.

Mistress Medb ingen Brain was called into court to present Baron Vlad with the token of the Order that she had been so kind as to sneakily procure. Since They had the representatives of the premiers of Their other Orders here in their court, They did ask them to welcome Baron Vlad as there are no other members of the Order yet to do so.

Her Excellency then did thank the populace for taking the time to come out to the event this day and Their Excellencies did close their court.

Thus ends my report on the court of Their Excellencies Lochmere at Night on the Piazza. It is accurate to the best of my knowledge. I wish to acknowledge the gracious assistance of my second, Honor of Lochmere.

In Service,
Sigrid, Partan

BARONY OF LOCHMERE MAY 8-10

http://acorn.atlantia.sca.org/event_flyer.php?event_id=dfa703a6

The Barony of Lochmere invites all archers to join us at our scenic waterfront site in Annapolis for a day of flying objects, feasting, and fellowship!

Shooting will begin around 10 AM on Saturday, May 9th. (SCA time)

Though we will still have our usual challenging walkthrough shoot, Baron Kryss has added some surprises along the way. One big addition is plans for an ATLATL BATTLE, so bring your atlats and darts (there will be some available for loaner, too). I don't want to give too much away, but be prepared for fun. (Some advance information may get leaked to the Merry Rose and Archers lists, so be on the lookout).

Additionally, there will be lots of loaner gear for archers in need, too. Come on out and shoot!

Non-archers are encouraged to attend to eat, schmooze, and work on small A&S projects.

Martial Activities: LOTS of ARCHERY, including ATLATL

Cost:

Adult, Member:	$15.00	Day-Trip	$0.00	Feast	$0.00	Camping

STORVIK NOVICE

BARONY OF STORVIK
MAY 16

<http://storvik.atlantia.sca.org/novice-tournament-2015/>

The tides of time move forward and winter finally breaks its hold upon us. All around us the world shakes off the cold yoke of the winter season and we come alive once again. What signals best the coming of the new year is new life and on May 16 we celebrate and welcome those who have prepared in the dark and cold of winter to display their newfound skills in the light of spring. Come test your mettle against Martial Activities: The Armored Combat activities will consist of a Novice Tournament, an Unbelted Tournament and a Tournament of Chivalry. The format for the Novice and Unbelted tournaments to be determined by the number of entries. A Novice is defined as an Armored Combatant who's INITIAL Authorization is less than two years from the date of the Tournament. Anyone who's Initial Authorization longer than 2 years, but no more than 30 months may request special dispensation of the AC MiC to be allowed into the Novice Tournament. No Promises. Following the Novice and Unbelted tournaments, the Chivalry in attendance will be invited to take the field and receive challenges from the unbelted and/or request opportunities for one on one training.

Anyone seeking to gain in initial authorization the day of the event is welcome to do so, Please contact the MoL and per-coordinate information and paperwork to get the activities moving as quickly as possible. Those seeking add-on authorization will be handled once all the first timers are completed or at the first available opportunity.

There will also be Rapier competitions through out the day, including a Novice Competition. Please see Website& Facebook page for details

Arts & Sciences Activities: OPEN Novice Competition - any art or science that the entrant has worked on for less than a year. Documentation not necessary but recommended. Judges appreciate some information about your piece.
