Baronial Missive

Warmest greetings unto the exceptional populace of Lochmere from Baron Gabrell and Baroness Avice,

As the populace rests from a busy month, let us regale the populace of our adventures. We begin with land grab of Pennsic, which to our minds was the smoothest land grab in recent memory, thanks largely in part to our land agent Master Reynard being able to map out the land the night before. With minimal rain we were able to get the Baronial Pavilions and all the tents for those present up before night fall. Thanks to those who stayed during peace week, the rest of the camp was set up by those remaining and the camp was quite beautiful, especially the new flags and

Thanks to all who processed with us on Saturday, especially Lady Scholastica who led the Barony in song, by request of HRM. It is impressive to see all the Knowne World showing off their colors. Lochmere Baronial court was Sunday evening where we were joined by our cousins from Bright Hills. As was agreed to in last year's treaty, we exchanged gifts symbolizing our ongoing alliance; several of which were consumed with much delight by the populous after court. During court we recognized Gabriel von Regensburg with our children's award, the Alerion for all his hard work for the Barony. Baron Kryss received the Gold Arrow which was long overdue for his dedication to all missile weapon activities. Lord Cormac received a Blasted Oak for his dedicated work for the barony. Court concluded with awarding the Order of the Silver Tortoise to Baron Eshton for being an exceptional example of what it means to be a Lochmeri. After the cheers for court subsided, we immediately started the social. Thanks for Mistress Arianna for doing the shopping for the Baronial social and Baroness Eydis for providing the jello and pudding shots. While Her Excellency is not a jello fan, she certainly appreciates the good cheer the jello shots bring. We passed out the baronial favors created by Lady Brynn and Lady Anne which were very well received. It made us smile every time we saw someone wearing one. So much happened at Pennsic we could fill a book but we won't. However we do need to mention the inaugural Baronial Champions thrown weapon tournament which was conceived and sponsored by Lochmere. We were honored to see so many folks show up. We appreciated and enjoyed the Company of Our Cousins that found time to stop by on that busy day. All the throwers left the range with a smile after throwing at all the targets created by Dame Dealla and Baron Kryss. Everyone that was there said they couldn't wait till next year and many throwers said they are going to spread the target types to their marshal so they can bring more fun to their own community.

After a few hot days Pennsic came to an end. Thank you Master Reynard for running camp, and thanks to all who helped to support the camp.

After a few dozen showers and some naps, we were refreshed and looking forward to Battle on the Bay. With much watching of the weather and the sacrificing of several goats to the weather gods, the weekend weather ended up being wonderful. Which only enhanced the weekend of wonderful things, which started Friday night when Her Majesty decided it was high time to put (then) Lady Lisette on vigil to contemplate joining the Order of the Pelican. Gardiners hosted the vigil, with fantastic (yummy) hospitality. After a wonderful night of celebration, we had morning court for the investiture of the new Baronage of Dun Carraig. After morning court Their Majesties approached (then) Lord Brian and placed him on vigil to contemplate joining the Order of the Masters of Defense. After a day of running around, visiting with the populace, watching the fighting – including the 25! Youth fighters, attending the thrown weapons tournament, tasting mead and cordials, tasting, shopping and spending time with our cousins, it was time for evening court – we don't know where the time went!. Mistress Lisette and Master Brian gave their oaths to Their Majesties they joined their orders, Mistress Arianna and Lady Gwen received Herrings for their work as autocrats on NOTT, Lady Seraphina received her Award of Arms. After Storvik's Court, we were allowed to open a Court. After thanking all for coming, we had a very efficient Court where we thanked Lord Cormac for being Our heavy champion for 2 years and released him from that duty and then We called in Lord Ceawlin Silvertongue who agreed to step up to Our heavy champion. We called Lady Gwen in to court as she was stepping down as Lochmere's Seneschal, also announced Baron Kryss will be the new Seneschal, and then we awarded her with the Blasted Oak for her service. We called in Mistress Medb and Mistress Lisette to give them awards of courtesy for their work as chatelains, also announced that they are stepping down with Lady Anne and Connie stepping up as chatelains. We called in Brian to ask if he wanted to become our first thrown weapons champion, he agreed with a giant smile and took his place behind us. With business finished we closed court and Their Majesties said it was time for feast and closed court. We want to this time to thank Sir Alfred, Duchess Simone, Baron Eshton, Lady Gwen, and her friend Ann for staying to help take down the Baronial canvas after court. After a wonderful feast there was a little camp fire time, until a happy exhaustion overtook us and it was time for some sleep.

Her Excellency went down to Sacred Stone for their baronial birthday, in particular to see the elevation of Duchess Brianna to the Order of the Pelican. Although it was Pennsic hot, she was happy to see a friend of the Barony recognized for her many years of service to Atlantia. She was particularly grateful for the companionship and assistance of Mistress Medb and Master Vlad, the hospitality of Sacred Stone and House Roanwoulfe and Lady Cassair's seemingly unending supply of Seren-i-tea.

We have a full agenda planned for the Fall and will release the Baronial Progress soon. Lady Gwen is taking over as Baronial liaison from Mistress Lisette (Thank you Lisette) and will be helping us coordinate Baronial outings.

Yours in service,
Baron Gabrell Baroness Avice

Chronicler Position Open

Lochmere

I will be stepping down in March, as my warrant will be expiring. There are a great deal of benefits, first since you do not have any responsibilities at events, it leaves you free to participate in other activities. The position most likely will be changing and going more "on-line" and you can help shape what those responsibilities will be. You also have a reserved seat at business meetings :)

If you are interested in becoming a deputy and eventually becoming Chronicler, please let me know.

~ Lady Sarra de Vicenza
